

NEW RYDER-CHESHIRE HOME OPENS IN MOUNT GAMBIER S.A.

Our new $1.1 Million Across-Disabilities Home has just been completed and is ready to accept its first residents. Retiring Home Committee President Neville Gilbertson, 'We have been working for five years to build our new Home. There is a waiting list of patients in our region with a variety of disabilities who need 24/7 supervised residential care and can cope with living in a community. We are filling a genuine need.'

Our Home will be managed by PQSA who have 50 years experience helping mainly wheelchair-bound clients to live fulfilling lives despite their physical disabilities. They manage a number of other homes for people with disabilities in Mt Gambier.

The architect-designed Home has many features to assist residents with daily living, including full wheelchair access if needed. There are accessible en-suites in all bedrooms. Communal areas feature an accessible kitchen, covered outdoor barbeque area, raised beds to encourage residents to plant their own gardens, and a quiet room.

Funding was provided by The Federal Government's Building Better Regions Fund, Ryder Cheshire Australia, Ryder-Cheshire Singleton, Ryder-Cheshire South Australia, and the Rotary Club of Mt Gambier West. The Mt Gambier Homes have always enjoyed strong community support. The profits from catering for two Rotary District Conferences were donated by community groups to help fund our new Home.

The original Home is known as Ryder and the new Home is Cheshire.

Neville Gilbertson's Committee has offered to assist in guiding other RCA groups who want to build their own Home.

An Australian Team of Dental Volunteers visited Timor-Leste in July 2018.

This is their story!

Our Dental Team of Dentist Dr John Denton, Hygienist Lyn Carman, and Dental Assistant Jodie Billinger, arrived in Dili full of excitement and anticipation. We were met at the airport by Joaquim Soares, Director of Klibur Domin, and Patricia McDonell, our Rotary Team Leader. Joaquim shepherded us through customs with our 90 kilograms of dental instruments and supplies. We had each filled our cases full of dental stuff and carried all our clothes for the ten day adventure in our back packs. We quickly made ourselves at home in the new, very comfortable, Klibur Domin volunteer cottage.

Next morning, we were keen to meet our new local Dental Therapists, Efi, Luis and Maria. Luis and Maria graduated from Dili University, and Efi did a similar course in Indonesia. Their training enables them to perform simple diagnosis and treatment of dental diseases, including fillings, extractions, Silver Diamine Fluoride (SDF) use, scalings and oral hygiene instruction (OHI).

Dr Ian Ridley and I were very pleased when these local clinicians came on board the KD Dental Clinic Project. Co-operation between Maluk Timor and KD has advanced the KD Dental Project three to four years ahead of our projections. Our Australian volunteer dental team roles have changed from us doing everything, to doing some of the operating and much more mentoring; a role we found very satisfactory and satisfying. Efi, Luis, Maria and Juvita, a student Dental Nurse, were very keen to learn from us and eager to help us with translating and support.

Our first day's work was split between two teams, comprising local and volunteer clinicians. One team went to Tibar Upper School for dental screening, SDF treatments, oral hygiene instruction and distributing toothbrushes and toothpaste. The other team treated patients in the KD Clinic. We convened at the volunteer cottage for lunch and compared notes. We were reminded of the differences in dental practice in Timor-Leste and Australia and celebrated our new experiences. We were in for a steep learning curve, but were up for the challenge with a smile on our faces. We met with Joaquim after lunch, then we returned to the Clinic and the Tibar Lower School. We also met Martin Moignard from Melbourne who worked with Joaquim on administration, budgets and business strategies for KD. Martin became an important part of our team.

The next day we did more dental screening at schools and treating patients in the Clinic. We found the clinical skills of the local Dental Nurses to be very good. They had a good knowledge of their dental stock and sterilising procedures and good hand skills in their operations. All very impressive.

On Wednesday we split up again and did screening and some extractions for staff at Tibar Upper School. In the afternoon we did specific mentoring including extractions, SDF use, and scaling. Lyn is a great tutor and the locals benefitted from her expertise with the ultrasonic and hand scalers. All this was very appreciated by Efi, Luis and Maria.

Jodie Billinger raised $650 through a crowd-funding exercise toward the cost of the new fridge to store dental perishables and 1000 doses of local anaesthetic. Well done Jodie! We also received a donation of $200 to print and bind some excellent oral health care education material, kindly made available to us by Kose Nehan, another Aussie volunteer dental program in Timor-Leste.

The team spent Thursday in the clinic treating patients. We had a lovely thankyou afternoon tea with Joaquim and the Staff at KD. We were each presented with colourful tais and a big bag of coffee! After dinner that night, our team worked in the dental clinic stocktaking equipment and supplies. Donated equipment and consumables need to be well targeted and useful.

We held our final Dental Clinic on Friday morning. As is often the case, when trying to finish a dental clinic session at a specific time, the last extraction procedure is a difficult one. Today was no exception! I am pleased to report that the offending broken down upper wisdom tooth eventually came out! The patient was still smiling! We said our goodbyes after an important debriefing with Joaquim and another great lunch. All our meals at KD were fantastic.

We were fortunate to visit Dili University Dental School. We had a meeting with the staff and students and viewed facilities. We came away with the hope and ideas to be able to help with ongoing issues of aged and non-working equipment. Only 1 of 10 dental chairs was working! It validated our decision to use simple equipment at KD, to minimise down time through break down.

We spent our last evening discussing dental volunteering and the challenges and joy it brings to all those who are willing to open themselves up to that wonderful experience. We will be back!

Dr John Denton

Klibur Domin Celebrates Founders' Day

Klibur Domin paid tribute to our Founders, Leonard Cheshire and Sue Ryder, at a special celebration on Wednesday 5 September, its inaugural Founders' Day.

Over 400 people gathered together to congratulate and give thanks for the past 18 years of service by Klibur Domin to the people of Timor-Leste.

Among those present, were the Chief of Staff of the President of the Republic of Timor-Leste; the Director General of the Ministry of Social Solidarity and Inclusion; the US Ambassador to Timor-Leste, Kathleen Fitzpatrick; representatives from the Australian Embassy and the Japan International Cooperation Agency; Ex-Prime Minister, Dr. Rui Maria de Araujo; members of the Klibur Domin Board, including current Chairperson, Dr. Jose Teixeira; representatives of RCA, Air Commodore Peter Newton AO (Ret) and his wife Helen; Rotary representative, John Kirby; Rev. Fr. Ted Burns; the very first volunteer at Klibur Domin, Joao Martires; current and past Klibur Domin staff, patients and volunteers; along with local community members and supporters of the Foundation.

Following a traditional Timorese welcoming ceremony, the new MDR-TB Cottage, Female TB Cottage 4 and the new Volunteers' Cottage were blessed and opened by Fr. Ted Burns and a local Capuchin Franciscan Priest.

With the completion and opening of these new buildings, the number of buildings has now risen to over 20, taking the number of beds from 50 in 2000 to over 80, once the cottage for students is completed. Ryder Cheshire Australia has played a very important role in the continual development of Klibur Domin, with approximately $4 million being given for projects and operating costs over the last 18 years.

Invited guests congratulated Klibur Domin on its many achievements over the last 18 years in a number of speeches. Tribute was paid to the many programs which bring about the mission of Klibur Domin, for the relief of suffering, to many Timorese people on a daily basis; including the inpatients and disability programs, the mobile TB and CBR programs, the TB and MDR-TB wards, the Dental Clinic and the Respite Centre. Acknowledgement of the generous contributions; both monetary and in kind; of many individuals and organisations was also given.

In the President's speech, by the Chief of Staff, he offered his congratulations and thanks to Joaquim Soares, the Klibur Domin Managing Director, and to all those who have worked so hard to ensure Klibur Domin's success over the past 18 years. He said that with the "fullness of spirit, today we have witnessed the inauguration of the new buildings to continue to accommodate patients and their families".

The cutting of the magnificent cake and the unveiling of the Founders' Day Plaque were followed by a traditional Timorese banquet, music and dancing late into the afternoon.

Congratulations to Klibur Domin on this fantastic celebration and to all who made it possible.

A Brief Word from Your President.

This edition of The Red Feather again highlights what a fantastic difference we are making for the relief of suffering.

We are a small team, but we seem to be doing more than ever. Peter Newton, John Kirby and Joaquim Soares are leading a transformation at Kilburn Domin in Timor-Leste. Susie Mackerras has overseen the prudent use at Raphael in India of the wonderful gift from our Singleton team and has managed the Tertiary Students' Program ensuring that it is successful. Neville Gilbertson and his Board have completed the next phase in their vision to increase our presence in Australia with the completion of a second Home, Cheshire, in Mt Gambier. Don Hamilton and his team have commenced a reinvestment strategy at the Home in Ivanhoe.

All the while our Foundations and Support Groups do their very best to support our sponsors and supporters. They run fundraisers to ensure that we remain on a sound financial footing and that the work of Ryder-Cheshire is well known.

I am highly appreciative of all the volunteers who undertake to spend time at Raphael and Klibur Domin assisting, supporting and sharing their skills in so many valuable ways.

The RCA Board has been working through the Refresh and Renew strategy which will be finalised in December 2018 and then translated into an Action Plan.

The contribution of all members and in particular those who participated in the Strategic Planning Session at this year's RCA Biennial Conference was greatly appreciated by your Board. I will circulate the final document early in the New Year and then look to all our Foundations, Support Groups and Homes to play a part in the implementation of this new vision.

Raphael's John Hunt Outreach Program

Beautiful Himalayas in the background on the way to the district of Uttarkashi from Dehradun..

On Thursday 15 and Friday 16 March 2018, I was incredibly fortunate to travel with two of the Specialist Educators from Raphael out into the remote Himalayan mountains as part of the John Hunt Outreach Program. A nearly eight hour drive along very narrow and incredibly winding roads, we reached the district of Uttarkashi, to the north of DehraDun. Uttarkashi is divided into six smaller blocks. This was the final block in this district to be visited by the team. I could not believe the distances covered to provide training, advice and support around disability.

Disability Presentation to the Anganwadi women.

On arrival, Mini, Ganga and I presented to 215 Anganwadi - women who look after children aged 0 to 6 in the villages, about disability and how to identify disability in children. Some had walked up to 30kms to be there and were incredibly appreciative of the information and training they received. I spoke about how to identify learning disabilities in children with the assistance of an interpreter. Our training session was cut a little short as a thunderstorm threatened and many of the woman had a long walk in the rain to return to their villages.

Early the following morning we were taken by one of the Supervisors up into a very remote village where we joined in one of the Anganwadi sessions. What a truly incredible experience to share in traditional village life.

Mid-morning the Anganwadis from around the district returned with children they identified as having delayed development, and their parents. We assessed 31 children from 8 months old to 14 years through a range of simple activities such as blowing bubbles, sorting blocks by colour and shape and copying simple shapes and patterns. The child's parents and the Anganwadi were also asked many questions about the child and their development. The children presented with a range of disabilities including deafness, cerebral palsy and intellectual disability, to name a few. It was very obvious to me that these children were very much loved and the parents were incredibly grateful that we were taking an interest in their child and offering advice and support. The Anganwadi and the parents were very keen to learn about different strategies to assist the child and were given handouts to support them. Many parents were also issued with a Disability Certificate for their child. This Certificate entitles the parents to receive 1,000 Rupees per month from the Government, approximately $20 AUD. This financial assistance will make a huge difference in the lives of these families.

I was incredibly impressed with the work of the Outreach Program and could see the difference it makes to the lives of so many rural children and their families.

Kim working with the Anganwadi children from the villages.

It will be vitally important that there is follow up support for these children and ongoing training for the Anganwadi who work closely with the children and their families if the Program is going to make a difference long term.

Stories from our Raphael Volunteers

Josie and her family

We went as a family to volunteer at Raphael. It was Molly's idea which then took hold.

Molly, 20, was on summer holidays from university. Roland, 17, had just finished school and did not wish to take a gap year, but accepted this challenge. I was eligible for long service leave from Maternal and Child Health Nursing. Rick, a self-employed builder, could manage his time. As well as volunteering with special needs children and assisting with a humanitarian organization, we hoped to experience India in a true and meaningful way.

As Raphael was closed for Christmas holidays, our month of volunteering would start in mid-January. So, we planned three weeks of travel and sight-seeing beforehand. It was winter time in India.

These weeks of travelling were our introduction to India with its brightly coloured clothing and exotic styles of dress, spicy foods, stalls of luscious fruit and beautiful craftwork. We felt stunned by the crowds; the honking, chaotic, nightmarish traffic; fog and air pollution, delayed trains, beggars, poverty, rubbish and requests for selfies. Despite great care, we were all sick at various times.

Feeling a little dazed and amazed, we arrived safely at Dehradun. Raphael seemed like a green oasis at the edge of town, merging into the forest. I liked the space and the old colonial style buildings. We were warmly welcomed and we quickly felt part of the scene. Though what a strange coincidence to travel so far and to find that the other volunteer there, Kim, was from our home town of Ballarat!! Three weeks later, two young men from England on their gap year, joined us to swell the number of volunteers to seven.

There is a very positive air and a sense of community spirit at Raphael. We felt accepted as part of a large family and quite at home with all the new people we met. Our volunteer work was mainly Monday to Friday 9am to 3pm and we could choose our area of work. I enjoyed spending time at physiotherapy and the workshops, but mostly worked with a class of 10 to 14 year olds. Molly and I were lucky to go out for a day with the Community Based Program (CBP), visiting schools and a few homes with a physiotherapist and the specialist educator. Molly worked in a class with high needs children of primary school age and Roland assisted with 12 to 18 year olds and in the office. Rick offered to do repair work and word spread quickly, so that he was kept busy fixing broken chairs, tables, doors and taps. He ended up painting one of the buildings and became familiar with the local hardware shops.

Matt

How best to describe my experience at Raphael? It was moving, humbling, eye-opening, sometimes challenging – though all the more rewarding for being so – but most of the time just a lot of fun. I spent the majority of my three months there helping out in the primary and pre-primary classes, assisting with activities such as music, art and fine motor training. Time after school was often spent playing cricket with the boys or football with the girls, who did not seem quite so cricket-mad. I formed some really good relationships. The teachers and office staff are very friendly and welcoming, and as for the children, some of them can melt your heart the moment you meet them. It was hard saying goodbye.

Besides that, I found that Raphael was a great base from which to explore other parts of India. Rishikesh is wonderfully charming and is only about an hour's bus ride away, while weekend trips to Amritsar and Dharamsala are also possible. I thought Dehradun itself was fascinating too, as spending time there gave me a real sense of everyday life in northern India.

In short, for anyone considering going to Raphael, I do not think I could recommend it enough. It is a very, very special place.

Matt

The day started with breakfast at 8am. Three delicious meals were served up for us daily by Hari, the cook. At 9am, the children and staff gathered in the playground for assembly. The singing was beautiful and the national anthem, sung so lustily, with hand on heart, was very moving. My favourite part of the day was the supervised walk around the grounds before lessons. There seemed to be few language barriers, perhaps because many of the children could not speak or had only a few words and were used to communicating non-verbally. They were delightful company. The disabilities of the children were mostly cerebral palsy, autism, Down syndrome, microcephaly and deafness. Most of the children are from poor families and have few possessions, but seemed entirely satisfied with their lot. They could teach us all a lesson in living in the present, in the joy of life and in gratitude for simple things. It was rather humbling.

Would I recommend volunteering as a family at Raphael? For the right individuals, I would say definitely, yes. Travel broadens the mind and is an education in itself. We have come home with many shared experiences and funny memories. Volunteering involves being willing to give your time and energy, being adaptable, expecting nothing in return and coming away feeling enriched. We would like to thank Ryder-Cheshire Australia for this great opportunity and for all the wonderful work that goes on at Raphael.

Time at Klibur Domin

I recently returned from six months volunteering at Klibur Domin, from February to July 2018. It was a very rewarding and enjoyable experience and I would strongly encourage anyone with even a short amount of time to make the journey to Timor-Leste to volunteer at Klibur Domin (KD). I spent most of my time supporting the administration, although every day was a little bit different and over my time there I ended up with great variety of activities both in and out of the office.

I have been thinking about what really grasps me the most about Timor-Leste and KD. The solidarity and teamwork of KD's staff and the passionate efforts of supporters have been inspirational, and the beauty of the country, its mountains, its coastlines and its oceans have all had a great impact.

Going out into the community with KD's Tuberculosis (TB) and Community Based Rehabilitation (CBR) teams made clear the scale of the work KD is undertaking to address healthcare needs in Timor-Leste. It is easy to underestimate the distances and the time needed to reach patients in Timor-Leste.

KD is making significant contributions towards the global effort to identify and treat Tuberculosis. This disease is a very serious issue in Timor-Leste, having one of the highest rates of infection worldwide. The reasons are manifold, with living conditions and access to appropriate healthcare leading the list of many stresses. What really sets KD apart is the active case finding strategy to seek out those who have TB in remote communities combined with an in-house directly observed treatment program; the best of its kind in Timor-Leste.

There is a vital link between the work that KD does in community outreach and the inpatients program that will help free Timor-Leste of this high burden of TB in coming years. The recent completion of additional facilities at KD to treat more TB and Multi Drug Resistant-TB patients has been a necessary investment towards this global objective.

Every day at KD ensures that patients complete their treatments and have activities to keep them physically active and prepared to regain their livelihoods when they return home. A family I met in the community said that they could never thank KD enough for treatment which cured them of TB, and that it was their hope that KD's presence will continue for many years to come.

As KD expands beyond TB and CBR it has been very exciting to see the Dental Clinic up and running. It is a program that is bound to have lasting impact. There are so many people who have had little to no dental treatment in their lives, and the amazing contributions of the volunteer dental teams are making serious inroads into dental health in Timor.

It was great to have so many visits from Ryder-Cheshire and Rotary volunteers while I was there, catching up on news from back home and feeling the brightness and motivation of everyone who made it to KD. We had many memorable evenings in the volunteers' cottages. Amazed by the common connections I found with many of the volunteers, I was reminded of what a small and interconnected world it is that we live in.

And it says something about KD's success that through the years the tireless efforts of volunteers working hand in hand with staff have helped maintain the vision and momentum. We are achieving so much every day for the relief of suffering and it really feels like there is a prosperous future ahead for KD because of these unwavering commitments.

Coming back to that initial question of what really captured me in my time at Klibur Domin, I would have to say it is the resilience of the Timorese people and their long history of struggle and determination that is truly inspiring. The strength and positivity of the Timorese people is a testament to the spirit of human endeavor and it has been incredibly rewarding to be part of this amazing team that is contributing to their future.

Vale Cheryl Germaine Nesbitt

I first met Cheryl at the beginning of 1968 in Sydney when my cousin brought her along to a Raphael fundraiser event. It was a Japanese luncheon prepared by Jenny at Barbara Coleman's home in Sydney.

Cheryl joined Ryder-Cheshire for the next 50 years. She was a Director on the NSW Foundation for 12 years. We met again when she moved to the Hunter Valley and she joined the Singleton Ryder-Cheshire Support Group where, for many years, she was our President and Public Officer, maintaining her support of the Ryder-Cheshire NSW and the National Foundation. She sold copious Ryder-Cheshire Christmas cards.

With a background in Real Estate and Banking, her expertise and competence were invaluable. She was compassionate and generous, and had a unique balance of firmly standing up for what she believed was right, coupled with a sense of fun. She could turn her hand to anything, even running up the curtains for Locksley, the then Ryder-Cheshire Home in Singleton, NSW. It was under Cheryl's watch that we incorporated and eventually wound up the Singleton Home, distributing the funds to other Ryder-Cheshire projects. She was delighted with the progress reports of that money being promptly utilised where needed.

She managed to make a mark with other causes as well; St. Michael's Church and community groups in Wollombi, Family Support in Cessnock, St. Patrick's Church baptisms in Singleton, St. George Bank Foundation and the National Party to name some, but Ryder-Cheshire was her favourite charity. Her hobbies were many; a talented artist, cook, gardener and perfect hostess.

A devout Catholic, her battle with cancer extended over four uncomplaining years. We saw her as brave, beautiful, and positive. In detail, she calmly organised her affairs so that her family would not be unduly burdened, attending to any maintenance issues. A fortnight before dying, she told a tradesman that he needed to expedite the job as she was going away soon, travelling.

Cheryl was an inspiration, a dependable friend. She shall not be forgotten. We all miss her deeply.

Vale Melody Smythe

*Melody Smythe
National Project
Officer (India)
Sydney, NSW*

On 15 October we received the sad news that Melody Smythe had died. Melody was a much loved member of the NSW Ryder Cheshire Committee from 2002 to 2013, when she was forced to retire through ill health. She also took on the role of Raphael Project Officer from 2006, building a warm relationship with Brig Anil Sinha as she navigated her way through the special project requests that were submitted by Raphael for funding.

Melody's association with the Ryder Cheshire Foundation came about through her dear friend Barbara Lewis, who encouraged her to join the committee. It was a great joy to Melody that she was able to visit Raphael for the first time in March 2010 when she accompanied Patrick Lewis and his son Sutomo to attend the official opening of Barbara Cottage.

We will miss her warmth, concern for others and her work for the relief of suffering.

May she rest in peace.
